Course Introduction

Greater staff engagement, motivation and performance contribute directly to business success. A greater knowledge of mindsets allows staff to develop personally and professionally, as individuals and as a team.

Course Outcomes

By the end of the INSET, delegates will have:

- An understanding of the personal non cognitive skills needed to be more successful
- Reviewed the value and appropriateness of emotional confidence, resilience, empathy, motivation and team success skills
- Measured own mindsets and emotional competencies
- Practical strategies to sustain and further develop mindsets
- Opportunity for small group and individual learning

Trainer Profile

Ross McWilliam has been involved with formal education for over 30 years and has probably changed the lives of over one million children, young adults and professionals within the field of mindsets.

He has worked with over 1,000 schools and businesses and has a real passion for helping to develop and sustain professionals.

Ross is accredited by Mental Health First Aid England (MHFA) and delivers training and keynote speaking at various national conferences, school clusters and business managers forums.

“Ross delivered a Growth Mindsets session with our members. In all my years as a Rotary Club President, I have never seen a presentation as engaging”
